
BIOGRAPHY

Name & Affiliation

Andy Burman, CEO, The British Dietetic Association

Biography

Andy has been Chief Executive for 15 years and has over 25 years experience in senior management working with health professions. He has founded several new companies and charities related to health. He also works as a member of several conduct and investigation panels, managing complaints about members of other professions.