
BIOGRAPHY

Name & Affiliation

Marjolein Visser, Vrije Universiteit Amsterdam

Biography

Marjolein Visser is a nutritionist and epidemiologist and professor of Healthy Aging at the Department of Health Sciences, Vrije Universiteit Amsterdam. Her research interests are nutritional and other lifestyle determinants of healthy aging. She is currently coordinator of two EU projects related to malnutrition: PROMISS - prevention of malnutrition in senior subjects; and the JPI Malnutrition in the Elderly Knowledge Hub - MaNuEL. She is a member of the Health Council of the Netherlands and has authored over 260 scientific publications.