

BRIAN POWER BIOGRAPHY

Originally from Kilkenny in Ireland, Brian is currently a lecturer in nutrition at University College London. He serves as an honorary senior dietitian at University College London Hospitals and is Chair of the British Dietetic Association England Board and a Director of the British Dietetic Association Council.

Brians' research interests include;
Understanding and changing eating and physical activity behaviours
Development, implementation and evaluation of behaviour change interventions
Clinical trials and evidence synthesis